Montgomery County, January 8, 2010: Marlene J. Mash, MD celebrated the Grand Opening of her new offices located at 545 West Germantown Pike, Plymouth Meeting, PA on January 7, 2010, with a private VIP Grand Opening and Ribbon Cutting. Officiating Ribbon Cutter was Judge Carolyn Tornetta Carluccio, newly elected Judge for the Court of Common Pleas, current Director of Mission Kids, and an active supporter of many charitable organizations.

The new beautiful and “green” facility was designed by local environmentally-aware designers to meet all patients’ skin wellness and aesthetics needs. From treatment of all dermatologic conditions to full skin rejuvenation, the professional staff expanded the menu of services for both General Dermatology and Cosmetic Dermatology.

Guests of the Grand Opening Event included community members, business and organization representatives, board members from the Montgomery Chamber of Commerce, the Police Athletic League, Mission Kids, various charitable organization members, and friends. Attendees were provided a gift from Dr. Mash’s Private Label Skin Care Line, entertainment by Motoko Yost, and refreshments catered by Brother’s Catering.

“I grew up in a family of physicians and, as a result, I am very interested in giving my patients not only the best care, but helping them live happy and healthy lives,” Mash said. “The skin is the body’s largest organ, and its appearance can often times predict a wide range of medical conditions, not to mention how we present ourselves to the world. If I can help people look and feel their best as they
